Thursday after Ash Wednesday

Moses speaks to the people: "I have set before you life and death, the blessing and the curse. Choose life, then, that you and your descendants may live, by loving the Lord, your God, heeding his voice, and holding fast to him." "Blessed the man who . . . delights in the law of the Lord and meditates on his law day and night." Lent is a time to make room for God, to spend time with the Scriptures, and to ponder, allowing the goodness of the Lord to sink into the depths of our hearts. We "hold fast to him" when we hold fast to the cross daily. Jesus invites us this Lent on this way of the cross. Life was saved through the cross. Choose the cross, hold fast to Jesus, and salvation is assured!

God Love You!
